Provenance

The materials in this collection were donated to the San Diego Air & Space Museum. The collection has been processed and is open for research with no restrictions.

Scope & Content Notes

The collection consists of research materials of UC Irvine Professor of History Henry Cord Meyer. These materials pertain to the development of lighter-than-air (LTA) craft in the post World War I period. The primary focus is Zeppelin airships and the international promotion of LTA. A secondary focus is the 1937 Hindenburg disaster. Research interest obtains in the primary source material collected and the correspondence and many interviews Meyer conducted with businesspeople associated with the Luftshiffbau Zeppelin (and its American subsidiary) and Schütte-Lanz airship companies, USN airship personnel, and with Hindenburg survivors. The collection contains material in English and German.

History

Henry Cord Meyer was born on February 12, 1913 in Chicago, Illinois, the only child of German immigrants. Meyer and his mother moved to Colorado after the death of his father in 1920. He earned a B.A. degree at the University of Colorado and a master's degree at the University of Iowa; he received his PhD from Yale University in 1941. Commissioned as an ensign in the Navy at the start of World War II, Meyer was among a group of historians who performed intelligence work for the Office of Strategic Services. After the war, Meyer began his academic career at Pomona College, specializing in Central European history. He received the American Historical Association’s George Louise Beer Prize for his 1955 book, Mitteleuropa in German Thought and Action, 1815-1945, and was a 1960 Guggenheim Fellow in German and East European History. In 1964, he became a founding member of the History Department at UC Irvine, serving until 1981; as emeritus faculty, he continued his research at UCI until 1999. In retirement, Meyer’s research interest gravitated to the history, politics, and commercial economics of rigid airships (in particular the Zeppelin). He became a leading expert in the political, economic, and strategic value of Zeppelins and the political implications of airship technology. A prolific scholar, he was the author of seven books, including Airshipmen, Businessmen, and Politics, 1890-1940 (1991), Count Zeppelin: A Psychological Portrait (1998), and Airships in International Affairs 1890-1940 (2001, with John Duggan). Professor Meyer died on September 30, 2001 in Claremont, California.

Description and Content Notes

Description: The collection consists of 17 boxes, 11 measuring 12" x 10" x 15", 4 measuring 15½" x 5" x 10½", 1 measuring 15½" x 7" x 10½", and 1 measuring 3" x 13" x 18". The collection has been rehoused in archival folders. Original order has been preserved, with the exception of the photographic material, where photographs originally housed with documents have been included in the photograph series. Oversize material have been separated from their original boxes and housed in Box 17.

The collection contains material in English and German.

The bulk of the collection is research material relating to the development of lighter-than-air (LTA) craft in the post World War I period. In addition to this collection at the San Diego Air & Space Museum Archives, the Hoover Institution Archives at Stanford University hold a separate collection, the Henry Cord Meyer Papers, 1915-1963.

The primary focus of the collection is the international promotion of LTA by Luftschiffbau Zeppelin (the Zeppelin Airship Company), with specific attention to its two major airships, LZ 127 Graf Zeppelin and LZ 129 Hindenburg. Research interest obtains in the primary source material collected and the correspondence and many interviews Meyer conducted with businesspeople associated with the Luftschiffbau Zeppelin (and its American subsidiary) and Schütte-Lanz airship companies, with U.S. Navy personnel involved in airship development, and with survivors of the 1937 Hindenburg disaster.

Contents: Materials include correspondence, research notes, manuscripts, reprints, news clippings, magazines, photographs, microfilm reels, videocassettes, and computer disks.

The Henry Cord Meyer photo collection contains approximately 750 photographic images (prints, negatives, slides, and photocopies) that Meyer acquired from various sources (as gifts, purchases, or licensed use). Major collections gifted to Meyer include items from the Uwe Eckener Collection, the Werner Strumann Luftschiffe Archive, and the F. W. von Meister personal collection. The collection also includes copies of photographs from the following collections: Landesmuseum für Techik und Arbeit, Mannheim, Lufthansa Photo, Luftschiffbau Zeppelin, and the LTA Society.
